★ A PROUD TEACHING TRADITION ★

Mitch started studying at age 6 with his dad, Al, the well-respected professional drummer who performed top gigs across the US and abroad, at the White House, and on TV. In the late 40s Al started teaching becoming the sought after instructor for beginners and professionals.

Al mentored Mitch to start teaching at age 15. Mitch has adopted Al's unique methods along with his original educational materials.

“ Mitch is a accomplished percussionist, a big supporter of music education for all, a thoughtful & conscientious teacher.

—Nicholas O'Sullivan

Band Director, Governor Livingston High School
